MUSIC EDUCATION - PH.D.

Description
The Ph.D. degree in Music Education is for students to integrate teaching, theory, and research in inquiry about music teaching and learning. Through a collaboration with Kent State’s College of Education, Health and Human Services, the degree program allows for emerging scholars to engage in coursework and research in areas connecting musical and educational pedagogies. Students pursuing the Ph.D. degree will be those interested in preparing music teacher educators at institutions of higher learning, engaging in arts education activities and exploring emerging practices in curriculum, artistic instruction and educational thought.

Minimum Total Credit Hours: 75

1 Students may also select other courses in the School of Music with advisor approval. If students select classes with fewer than 3 credit hours, they must still meet the 6 credit hours for musical literacy category.

2 Upon successful completion of the candidacy examination, students take a dissertation topic from the proposal stage through approval, writing, submission and an oral defense process with a faculty committee comprised of the music education advisor, one additional music education faculty member, one representative from music education or education, a member from another music discipline area or education and an appointed graduate faculty representative. Each doctoral candidate, upon admission to candidacy, must register for MUS 88199 for a total of 30 credit hours. It is expected that a doctoral candidate will continuously register for Dissertation I, and thereafter MUS 88299, each semester, including summer, until all requirements for the degree have been met.

Residency Requirements
Student must complete a residency requirement of minimum 9 credit hours each year until qualifying exams.

Candidacy Requirements
For the Ph.D. a comprehensive, qualifying, candidacy examination is taken when the student has substantially completed his/her coursework and has received the consent of the advisor committee to attempt the examination. The examination includes an extensive written section consisting of proctored and non-proctored questions, and an oral section taken before a faculty committee. Material for both written and oral sections is drawn from the coursework taken during the degree program, current professional research literature, and current topics in music education. Students who fail the candidacy examination two times will be dismissed from the doctoral program.
