GERONTOLOGY - GRADUATE CERTIFICATE

College of Education, Health and Human Services
School of Lifespan Development and Educational Sciences
405 White Hall
Kent Campus
330-672-2294
www.kent.edu/ehhs/ldes

Description
The Gerontology graduate certificate is offered jointly offered with the University of Akron and offers basic preparation for students in their selected discipline while concurrently providing specialized training in gerontology. Coursework completed at either institution may be applied to the certificate. The certificate program is flexible; students can tailor the courses taken toward completion of the certificate to meet their unique professional interests.

The Gerontology certificate is based on the recommended standards of excellence established by the Association for Gerontology in Higher Education. The faculty at both Kent State University and the University of Akron are nationally and internationally recognized scholars in gerontology. Many are fellows of the Gerontological Society of America. Faculty are available to assist students with course selection, research projects and other matters of interest in the field of gerontology.

Fully Offered At:
• Kent Campus

Admission Requirements
• Official transcript(s)
• Master’s degree from an accredited institution

For more information about graduate admission, please visit the graduate admission website.

1 Student must be matriculated in a graduate degree program or hold a graduate degree from an accredited institution. Students may be admitted with non-degree status, but they must complete a graduate degree prior to being awarded the certificate.

Gainful Employment Disclosure
Disclosure statement for this certificate.

Program Requirements
Certificate Requirements

Minimum Total Credit Hours: 18

Graduation Requirements
Minimum Certificate GPA
3.000

1 Meets the psychosocial requirement of the certificate.

Gerontology - Graduate Certificate