

ADMISSION OF FORMER GRADUATE STUDENTS

Kent State University graduate students who withdrew from or left the university in good standing will be required to re-apply for admission and pay the non-refundable application fee. Refer to the policy for Enrollment - Graduate in the University Catalog for more information.

For information concerning former graduate students who have been dismissed from the university, refer to the policy for Academic Standing - Graduate Student in the University Catalog.